

MOVE flatrate

For the first time, charging your electric vehicle comes with full cost predictability and uniform prices across all of Europe. Thanks to MOVE flatrate for just CHF 249 per month.

It's what many electric vehicle drivers have long been waiting for. Now, as a trial offer, MOVE Mobility is the first charging network operator on the market to offer electric mobility for a fixed price. The set monthly price is guaranteed and there are no variable or hidden costs and no nasty surprises when you get your invoice. For the first time, MOVE flatrate enables drivers to always pay the same amount to charge their electric vehicle – no matter how often or how long or even the location of the charging station. The flat rate can be used on the MOVE charging network in Switzerland and on all partner networks in Switzerland and throughout Europe.
